Immunoscore® has been covered and paid by some health insurance plans. However, individual plans may not cover the test. This sheet explains how HalioDx handles billing for our tests.

HalioDx will perform tests ordered by a physician and will file claims on behalf of the physician’s patients, regardless of our network status or coverage for the Immunoscore®.

Therefore, at the time the order is submitted, HalioDx will need all necessary health insurance information.

Please note that patients will be responsible for any deductibles, co-payments, and/or co-insurance in accordance with the terms of each. In many cases, patients can expect to pay no more than $190 out of pocket for the Immunoscore® if the test is covered by your insurance, and about $450 if your plan does not cover the Immunoscore®. The most we will bill your health insurance plan is $3,000 per test for patient’s individual health insurance plan and any applicable federal or state laws. In some cases, these amounts may be billed directly to the patient by HalioDx when required by law or by a health plan’s rules.

HalioDx does offer monthly payment plans on a case-by-case basis to those patients who are unable to pay their full balance by the due date.
